You never ask for tears
But they've always seemed to hang around here
Search through the hand me downs
For someone to love
Someone

To see All of you
Without turning away
Or being afraid
What comes to you
In a moment gone by
A glimpse of light
The Everlasting Road
Plays a symphony
Of fallen dreams
And delicate needs
Here in everyone
Far away from wanting love

To see all of you
Without turning away
Or being afraid
What comes to you
In a moment gone by
A glimpse of light
See all of you
Without turning away
Or being afraid
The Everlasting Road
