you are the worst thing i could believe in the devil looks just like me you know how to prey on yourself you know how to pray to me if i could pick one thing i did wrong i probably wouldn't change a thing if i did you'd see right through me and drag me down again if you think i am anything like you you're wrong if you think there is anything left here you're wrong if you think i am empty as you are you're wrong if you think i am suffering for you or thinking about you you're wrong if you think your words mean anything now you're wrong

if you think you can take anything back you're wrong if you think you know how much this hurts me you're
wrong
if you think at all i'd be impressed that you had me convinced for so long don't get me wrong i respect you like death row finding jesus like a drunk on the wagon like myself
