i remember every bridge i ever jumped off blindly And all my boring stories keep reminding me

'cause in all honesty i used to be an authority on irony and remembering my broken dreams and everything that used to be around and it's not so complicated to explain why these feelings faded

please pass some sanity, saint of mediocrity and keep me out of my sobriety 14 and 23, bridge and tunnel authority will keep me out of my sobriety

I say we just celebrate (I say we just celebrate)

And all my past mistakes and all my too little to late

'cause in all honesty i used to be an authority

And did i ever mention that i've lost all my best intentions

me out of my sobriety 14 and 23,
sobriety
