Something's out there
and it takes me away
from a world too small
too small to stay
something's out there
yeah, something's out there
something's out there
and it takes me away
from a world too small
too small to stay
something's out there (x2)

Another day in this place so small I'd rather be somebody else maybe if my mind wasn't so tall I wouldn't be able to tell and I have walked these streets it seems like ten million times and I've seen things up and leave time after time another day in this place so small
(old habits die hard and old habits die hard)

too small to stay
something's out there (x2)
(x2)

yeah
