A tear slides down my skin
Reflecting a memory
Of the time when we were together
And every thing was happy

These times are gone
These times are gone

When all is said and done
I still love you.
And there's nothing I can do to change this
Yeah there's nothing I can do.
I don't know why I do.
But I still love you.

Ashes to ashes
And dust to dust
All that this comes down to is us

Ring around your roses
I'm trying to decide
Why I can't control this
I need you to be mine.

Your find your name
Etched into my side
And I can't make these scars go away
No matter how many tears you made me cry
You're still the reason I stand everyday
You'll find your name
Etched into my side
And I can't make this go away
No matter how many tears you made me cry
You're still the reason I stand everyday

I don't know why I do
But I'll always love you.
