Making like the tide,
I aim to change the way we were.
Some purpose in my life
Is all I'm searching for.
Im blind to who I am.
Look right beside my face
And laugh at my display
As it sets behind.

All I need is a fire
That will heat me up
In my stride
For all that I strive for
Is a pulse with some speed
And the fire that will heat
The very best that we'll be.
Now and for all of my life.

This is my reason.
Im willing to
Fight for until the end.
Relearning that feeling.
The nerves are rejoining in my head.

Hoping that my sound
Will make your body want to move,
But if our bodies are off time
Arguments will skip the groove.
So dont be so upset
For what I have to do
To make you a better person
I know exactly what

I need is a fire
That will heat me up
In my stride
For all that I strive for
Is a pulse with some speed
And the fire that will heat
The very best that we'll be.
Now and for all of my life.

You are my reason.
Im willing to
Fight for until the end.
Relearning that feeling.
The nerves are rejoining in my head.

(And all I need...)

I need is a fire
That will heat me up
In my stride
For all that I strive for
Is a pulse with some speed
And the fire that will heat
The very best that we'll be.
So take me out on your big boat
Well cruise around all night long
Until the sun comes up.
Well sing all of your Favorite songs.
Now and for all of my life.

This is my reason.
Im willing to
Fight for until the end.
Relearning that feeling.
The nerves are rejoining in my head.

You are my reason.
Im willing to
Fight for until the end.
Relearning that feeling.
The nerves are rejoining.
The nerves are rejoining.
In my head
