1st verse

I've played the field
The game
The park
The arcade
I've used the style
And the pickup lines
And every cliché
Just to find someone like you
Just to find someone like you
I've played my cards
And stayed on the top of my game
I can sing along to every word of Mayday Parade
Just to find someone like you
Just to find someone like you

Chorus

Tell me what it feels like
Being in my heart and the center of my eye
Tell me what it feels like
To know someone who cares
Tell me what it feels like
Being in my heart and always on my mind
Tell me what it feels like
To know someone who cares.

2nd

She keeps the flowers I got her
In the middle of summer
I know it reminds her everyday
When my heart hit the ground
She wasn't making a sound
And I was "Pretty Letdown, Pretty Letdown"
And every time you smile I swear the world is going to stop
We've got our heads above the clouds
I hope and pray we never drop
I know you used to think you probably Would never see this side of me
But I know what you mean
I've never been the easiest to read

Chorus

Tell me what it feels like
Being in my heart and the center of my eye
Tell me what it feels like
To know someone to cares
Tell me what it feels like
Being in my heart and allways on my mind
Tell me what it feels like
To know someone who cares.

Bridge

Well look at me now
I'm in over my head I never ever thought I'd ever have to say this again
I never ever thought we would never be and probably
You would ever see this side of me
When all I see is you and me
And probably means everything to me.

Well look at me now
to say this again
You would ever see this side of me
When all I see is you and me
And probably means everything to me.
