

Letters Burning "At First Glance"

Visit "At First Glance" on MotoLyrics.com

Walking in like a stranger in a strange town
Invited by such a pretentious smile
Iâ€™m seeing what you wanted me to see
But I am poisoned by an apathetic comfort

Yeah... We had... So much... Potential...

Maybe maybe we can lay on the roof
And tell our troubles till were both drunk and through With spending valuable thrills to please the people around
So tell the jury just to hand out that sentence because itâ€™s not that simple

Every time you say you want to dance
Iâ€™m the one giving off another chance
Every time its time to walk away
Iâ€™m the fool begging you to stay

Yeah...We had...So much...Potential...

Maybe maybe we can lay on the roof
And tell our troubles till were both drunk and through
With spending valuable thrills to please the people
around
So tell the jury just to hand out that sentence because
itâ€™s not that simple

Visit Letters Burning page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.