I don't think twice about nothing sometimes you make me
I don't ask much from no one sometimes it saves me
I was startled by the passing nights I thought that I was done
It's funny how the memories ignite these feelings on
But every dumb thought has to end and all the good times can't pretend that
What is here is so real it isn't real at all
I don't think twice about nothing sometimes you make me
I don't ask much from no one sometimes it saves me
I was saddened by the chilling fights I thought this would be fun
It's slowing down but nothing ends the seasons still go on
But it's my duty to defend and all this change is making sense
Cause all the fear isn't real it isn't me that falls
Sometimes it's never ending no use of still pretending
Each day that passes by
I don't think twice about nothing sometimes you make me
I don't ask much from no one sometimes it saves me
Don't, don't, don't ask (Sometimes it's never ending no use of still Pretending)
Each day that passes by
