Iâ€™m throwing rocks at a glass house and building castles out of sand I bit off more than I can chew but itâ€™s you I'm always after Iâ€™m digging up a shallow grave and picking you out the flowers Iâ€™m not good enough for this but Iâ€™m attracted to disaster

What happens to us when the glass breaks into pieces?
Our bloody wounds will keep us slipping from each other
The Sunday storm will blow the sand into the ocean
But our regrets will keep us anchored to the floor

I tried to paint a broken house and build the castles out of dirt
I took on more than I could cure but itâ€™s you Iâ€™m always after I tried to read between the lines and buy books about somebody else
Iâ€™m not good enough for this

Sending messages to outer space Without a final destination
The high tide is closing in Coming to wash it all away

What happens to us when the glass breaks into pieces?
Our bloody wounds will keep us slipping from each other
The Sunday storm will blow the sand into the ocean
