"Second Chances"

Second chances have always proven to be the way of everything
This is not what I wanted for seven days of every week
And I've aimed to please myself so this is why I'm alone
This time I'm coming home for good
No changing presence settling we'll behave
This time I'm saying everything
Forever and ever we'll be the ones to forgive and forget
Life's already full and it's already ending
Life's already full
Forgiveness is a gift that we never use
To filled with pride that's stuck inside
Cause it's in ourselves but we're innocent
This time I'm coming home for good
No changing presence settling we'll behave
This time I'm saying everything
forget on the way home
I'm coming home for good this time
