"Too Many Days"

Visit "Too Many Days" on MotoLyrics.com

Too many days and too many nights I've tried so hard I don't know what to do to get through to you. I'm spinning around you're moving too fast I feel like it's all crashing down. But I'm still right here and I'm still around even though sometimes it too hard You know and I know the truth Too many days and too many nights I've tried everything that I knew but it's not good enough. Even the noose that's tied to my neck sometimes it gives a bit of slack but you do not. But I'm still right here and I'm still around even though sometimes it too hard You know and I know the truth
