I'm just a run away
I'll seek the end you follow
I can not think today
But in your CD tray

I just can't walk away from all the things you try to say
Now I'm thinking it over this time
Don't believe that I've always been deceiving
Wind back and refuse the fact
Forget all about them we'll do it without them

So you try to convince yourself
That this is all my fault
Then you blame it on someone else
And maybe that'll make it go away

I'm just a run away
I'll seek the end you follow
I can not think today
But in your CD tray

I just want you to see that things are what they used to be
Now I'm thinking it's better this way
You always stated the truth is overrated
Your claim to fame ain't but another cloud of smoke without no flame

So you try to convince yourself
That this is all my fault
Then you blame it on someone else
And maybe that will make it go away

And you not know you out there
We got them right were we want them
It was all a matter of time

So you try to convince yourself
That this is all my fault
Then you blame it on someone else
And maybe that will make it go away

Situation may have taken the bad place of Taken the place of
Situation may have taken the bad place of
Come around now
Come around now
