Some of us don't belong
None of us know the difference now
Between right and wrong
You just don't get it
I don't get it
There's a child without a home
Beneath the only street light on Something for a place to stand
None of this turned out quite the way we planned

Can't take that away
Take that away from me
I said they can't take that away
Take that away from me
No

What have we got to prove
Colors fade from reds to blues
Got nothing to lose
But putting ourselves in another man's shoes

Can't take that away
Take that away from me
I said they can't take that away
Take that away from me

They're so terrified
By the way we look at them through infrared eyes
As we blow them away
Who am I to follow in the footsteps of our parable lies?
And their blood stains serenades

Among those maimed and murdered
Innocent children
Innocent children
Innocent children

All confidences lacking
We're no the only ones
They'll capture who we're tracking
Disappear into the sun

And disappear into the sun
And disappear into the sun

They're so terrified
By the way we look at them through infrared eyes
As we blow them away
Who am I to follow in the footsteps of our parable lies?
And their blood stains serenades

(Islamic Operatic Intro: Allah)
There's gotta be a better way
It did not have to end up quite like this
There's gotta be a better way
I know
I know (oh yeah yeah)
There's gotta be better way

They're so terrified
By the way we look at them through infrared eyes
As we blow them away
Who am I to follow in the footsteps of our parable lies?
