Tracie
Cie, cie
Tracie

Steppin' out from underneath my shadow
Walkin' home from Friday's nine to five Rememberin' the long way round the meadow
The one we used to take from time to time

I thought about you, how you must have changed now, baby
Far away from me
How I used to savour all your kisses
No one else could see

And I wanna know
Tracie
Where are you now girl?
I don't know why this feeling's so strong
And Tracie
Where have you been?
You know there's no one now to tell us we're wrong

Countin' by the street lights to the phone box
Where we used to meet before the dawn
And smokin' on the top floor of the school bus
Promisin' the moon as we rode along

But now if I saw you across a crowded dance floor
Or somewhere in the town
Would you show me what I have been missin'?
And spin me round and round, whoa whoa

Tracie
Where are you now girl?
I don't know why this feeling's so strong
And Tracie
Where have you been?
You know there's no one now to tell us we're wrong

'Cause deep inside from some other place
I turn to find we're there face to face

We laugh, we cry, we work and we play
As love filled night gives way to the day, ooh ho

Tracie
Where are you now girl?
I don't know why this feeling's so strong
And Tracie
Where have you been?
You know, there's no one now to tell us we're wrong

Tracie
Where are you now girl?
I don't know why this feeling's so strong
Tracie
Where have you been?
You know there's no one now to tell us we're wrong
Tracie
