When I dream, I get pictures of the world I've never seen

I'm playing parts upon the silver screen

I'm anything my dream wants me to be

The picture always ends with you and me

There are times that you need to look a little deeper down inside

You might not always like the things you find

You may find you're running out of time

But the truth is always there for you to find

There's an angel watching over me

We've got angels, the kind that

Burns and I can't see

There's an angel watching over me

When the nightmares come

And the hounds of hunt surround me

When the thick comes on

Let the devil sends his dogs to find me

When the nightmares come

And the hounds of hunt surround me

Let the thick come on

Let the devil sends his dogs to find me

When I dream, I get pictures of the world I've never

I'm playing parts upon the silver screen

I'm anything my dream needs me to be

The picture always ends with you and me

There's an angel watching over me

We've got angels the kind that

Burns and I can't see

There's an angel watching over me

There's an angel the kind that

Burns and I can't see

It keeps watching over me, watching you and me

There's an angel there for you and me
