Take a look at the lines
In the jigsaw of humankind
What's there to see?
Who reaches for stars?

And who'll sit and stare
And confuse their visions
With pictures not there
Is the real world so far?

'Cos dreams come from life
No, not for everyone
Dreams come from life
Till the end they'll go on and on and on and on

'Cos I, oh I, oh I never would have thought of that
I, oh I, oh I never would have thought of that
Dreams come from life
But no, not for everyone
Dreams come from life
Well no, not for everyone

And the Microsoft touch
Of the future embraces us
With the dreams turn to dust
If there's nobody here

Because dreams come from life
But no, not for everyone
Dreams come from life
Till the end they'll go on and on and on and on

Oh I, oh I, oh I never would have thought of that
I, oh I, oh I never would have thought of that
Dreams come from life
No, not for everyone
Dreams come from life
No, not for everyone

'Cos I, oh I, oh I never would have thought of that
I, oh I, oh I never would have thought of that
Dreams come from life

No, not for everyone
Dreams come from life
Well, no, not for everyone
