Does anybody know what happens to love
When peace turns into war
Does anybody know what happens to love
When it can't be found at all
Can somebody tell me
How the world could be so blind
Does anybody know what happens to love
When love runs out of time

I can still remember
The last time we fought
The lines were drawn and quatered
In the calm before the storm
Can somebody tell me
How the world could be so blind
Does anybody know what happens to love
When love runs out of time

Does anybody know where the love of god goes
When the bombs begin to fall
Does anybody know or even care
Or have you seen too much before
Can somebody tell me

How the world could be so blind
Does anybody know what happens to love
When love runs out of time

When the fighting's over
And you've evened up the score
You're counting back the tables
To the way they were before
Can somebody tell me
How the world could be so blind
Does anybody know what happens to love
When love runs out of time
Can somebody tell me
How the world could be so cruel
Does anybody know what happens to love
Or is love somebody's fool
