I remember it was warm like it used to be
Then still a child like I want to be
With heavy wings I can recall
The freedom that has flown, that's now unknown

Sense of random, wild as angels
This is the life that we have known
Sense of random, wild as angels
This is the life that we have known

The waters of the deep they do recede
As if decided by global alchemy
With a heavy heart I can recall
The freedom that has flown, that's now unknown

Sense of random, wild as angels
This is the life that we have known
Sense of random, wild as angels

This is the life that we have known

Please don't ask me what it is I do all day
You'll get no reply from me in the nicest way
With a heavy heart I can recall
The freedom that has flown, that's now unknown
Now unknown

Sense of random, wild as angels
This is the life that we have known
Sense of random, wild as angels
This is the life that we have known

Sense of random, wild as angels
Sense of random, wild as angels
