"Angels And Devils"

Well I've been seeing Devils in my mirrors
Smiling 'cause they want another year
But I keep hearing Angels calling me
Reminding me of the way things used to be
I Keep hearing Angels calling me
I don't think that you can fall from grace
But Brother you can turn your back on faith
You live like you aint never gonna die
In the end you'll find you've only lived a lie
When you live like you aint never gonna die

But lately I don't feel like I am strong
A casualty in the fight for right and wrong
The Angels bow their heads
The Devils sig their victory song
But lately I don't feel like I am strong
Lately I don't feel like I am strong

Beware the glass and beware the midnight toke'
If you give in to them then it shall take control
They'll make you wish you never had a taste
They'll make you beg for one more last embrace
They'll betray you with a kiss and walk away

Lately I don't feel like I am strong
A casualty in the fight for right and wrong
The Angels bow their heads
The Devils sing their victory song
Lately I don't feel like I am strong
Lately I don't feel like I am strong

Jesus he lived so one day he could die
To save me from myself and all my pride
The Angels whispered comfort in His ear
But the Devil's made it hard for him to hear
So the Saviors heart was filled with Human fear

Lately I don't feel like I am strong
A casualty in the fight for right and wrong
The Angels bow their heads
The Devils sing their victory song

But lately I don't feel like I am strong
Lately I don't fell like I am strong
