Mistress of the starry night
Is rising, fall prey to her might
The temptress rising
Moon dancing in her veils
Shaking the soul way deep inside
The curse prevails the haunted mind
Crying on the hills of sadness

The love once beautiful
Now forever falling down
The wolf's growling in my soul
It's fighting to get out

Hey you, you tore away my heart
I see you in the cruel moonlight
With your arms around a stranger
It's true
It's made me lose my mind
Now you'd better save yourselves, so hide yourselves
Run from the wolf and the moon

Wish this all would disappear
Sense the end is drawing near
For broken hearted scales
Just can't be evened out
I know I loved you just too much
The moon reminds me of your touch
The wolf howls in rage and madness

The love once beautiful
Now forever falling down
The wolf's growling in my soul
Screaming let me out

I wish I could forgive you
I wish I could forget
I with the moonlight never brought me here
'Cause now that same light wants you dead
