Another rainy day in New York City
Softly sweet so silently it falls
As crosstown traffic crawls

Memories in my way in New York City
Tender tough to tragic to be true
And nothing I can do

City workers cheer
Taxis disappear
Another Rainy day in New York City

Another spacey stay in New York City
High up in an overpriced hotel
The view is really swell

Windy wet and grey in New York City
No one here I really want to see
No friends or family

Suddenly serene
The air is fresh and clean
Another rainy day in New York City

It's another rainy day
Just a rainy rainy day
