I found the note you left me
And once again I just couldn't care
A black and white movie at the end
Or have I seen this all before

I sensed I really loved her
She'd believe the act, it was so unfair
I stumbled through the final scene
But you won't believe it any more

In my dreams you never left
But I don't wanna let it be
Alone with someone, true believer
Lying next to me

I took it back to you
God give me the power
Back to you, each moment's like an hour
If only I could find the way
I'd find my way back to you

The saddest sound I ever heard
Was the door that closed behind you
Blind to what was in my heart
I must admit I was a fool

But I'm older now and wiser
The truth is easier to see
And boy, you knew I was searching
And now the mellow's what you need

Got to get back to you
God give me the power
Back to you, each moment's like an hour
If only I could find the way
I'd find my way back to you

Got to get back to you
God give me the power
Back to you, each moment's like an hour
If only I could find the way
I'd find my way back to you

Can't live my life this way
Back to you, when all is said and done
If only I could find the way
I'd find my way back to you
Back to you
