You had it so good for so long
You thought you were so very strong
You had too much glory
Just a little too much, too soon

You thought you could never be wrong
You would always buy your songs
What a sad, sad story
It's an age-old story

Every man will get his chance
To play the fool
Every time he takes a chance
And thinks he's cool

Sonny think twice
Before you close the door
Take my advice
Your love can't take much more
Something about your life is wrong
When the lady who loves you more is gone

And you don't know what to do
When it all comes down to you

You feel so afraid to be loved
Because you see too much
What a sad, sad story
But you brought it upon yourself

You gave it all up for fun
Now you got nowhere to run
With your sad, sad story
It's an age-old story

Every man will get his chance
To play the fool
Every time he takes his chances
And thinks he's cool
(Not to be alone)

Sonny think twice
Before you close the door
Take my advice
Your love can't take much more
Something about your life is wrong
When the lady who loves you more is gone
Sonny think twice

And you don't know what to do
When it all comes down to you

Don't think that she don't care
About your Saturday night affair
And you better watch out
Somebody is gonna be there

Sonny think twice
Before you close the door, whoa, oh
Take my advice
Your love can't take much more
Something about your life is wrong
When the lady who loves you more is gone

Sonny think twice
Before you close the door, ooh
Take my advice
Your love can't take much more
Something about your life is wrong
When the lady who loves you more is gone

Sonny think twice
Before you close the door, ooh
Take my advice
Your love can't take much more
Something about your life is wrong
When the lady who loves you more is gone
