When your day dreams dissolve in deteriorating trust

With means to a shallow end in hand

Life's acquired problems take seconds to resolve

But a painful eternity to understand

Life is fast becoming a short lived path

A political image

Time is of the essence a momentary passing presence

In which we are confined to our

Disenchanted dreams of conformity

It seems your life has been helplessly cast

Into social deformity

Disenchanted dreams of conformity

It seems your life has been helplessly cast

Into social deformity

Staring at the wall, darkness reflecting deep

Into the heart of infinite just

Indecision to life's direction leaves roles unplayed

By aspirations laid to rest

Life is fast becoming a short lived path

A political image

Time is of the essence a momentary passing presence

In which we are confined to our
Disenchanted dreams of conformity
It seems your life has been helplessly cast
Into social deformity
Disenchanted dreams of conformity
It seems your life has been helplessly cast
Into social deformity
Fashions play on trends, frozen in expiring devotion
Moving in circles lead by blind unguided truth
Fear of standing alone for what one believes
Leaves one solution, one emotion
