"Speed Kills"

A high performance demon at the speed of light
Screaming through the gears in the middle of the night

Don't know where I'm going high on octane fumes
I ride at the red line so give me some room

Speed kills, it kills you to see me running so free
Speed kills, I leave with dust and a memory

The fast lane's too slow my eyes see white lines
My only goal, a low estimated time
The only speed limit that I recognize
Is a big block V-8 that's opened up wide

Speed kills, it kills you to see me running so free
Speed kills, I leave with dust and a memory

Four speeds and overdrive and nitrous in my veins
The road appears before my eyes and passes through my brain

As I scream by you wander just who might I be
The only evidence I leave is just a memory

Speed kills, it kills you to see me running so free
Speed kills, I leave with dust and a memory
