Through the extremes of war stands out human, raw;
The bloodiest fights, the most faithful soul mirror;
From cruelty raises the sceptre of deep truth.

The sublime, naked curves of humanity
Bear the seal of dreadful and loathsome beauty.

Pure mind's steeped in vice and bleeding luxury
Unworthy of the vilest and dark enemy.

In the name of eternal crime and cold steel,
They gave birth to creatures too furious to feel;
Blind children enlivened by schizophrenia,
Torn by the hellish winds of a mean era,
Yearning for victory we've lost our soul
Hating for hate's sake: here is Homo 2.0.

Hybrid mind blessed by the waters of the Styx
I'm the one who survived your lowest instincts,
Born to charm and rape, love and kill, come and die
This warm blood in my heart's the fright in your eye.
