English translation

You can't even crack eggs well
You're so clumsy
Even so, you'd give up your life
To save this world Now everyone
Sees you as a hero
They dress you up in pretty clothes
And, barefoot, you run away You couldn't do anything
That's why I loved you
I don't believe
In fate
Always
Irrationally
Strangely
You should Laugh at
This irrationality With your back to the returning light
Seeming happy, you sang
Though you used the sound of the waves as an excuse
The sound wasn't captured Everything is gone from you
Therefore you can have a life
Which is connected to everything
Even I realized that eventually I won't say anything about luxury
I'll just accept sadness
So I want only you
To always
Be here
Never
Leave me
And we'll live
Without fear With a face I'd never seen before
You began to walk
To stop that fate You couldn't do anything
That's why I loved you
I don't believe at all

In that thing called fate
It's all right if you can't crack eggs
I'll crack however many you want
It's all right if you're not a good singer
I'll sing for you like this Requiem for the air
Requiem for the river
Requiem for the wind
Requiem for the light
Requiem for the forest
Requiem for the sun
Requiem for the land and the ocean Requiem for the heaven
Requiem for the heaven
Requiem for the heaven
I run
Requiem for the heaven
Requiem for the heaven
I'm not even afraid of gods
