I cant dream without that color picture of your little pretty suicide
Breathe without the openness of all the things i thought id never try.

I guess your better than a fist in the mouth i guess
I guess its better than living without it Breathe without that color picture of your little pretty suicide
Dream without the openness of all the things i thought id never try.

I guess your better than a fist in the mouth i guess
I guess its better than living without it
I guess a lover is just a sinner without regret I guess its better that we're moving this fast

These sleepless days, better than my pain addiction
One loveless night, better than your faceless millions

I aint free without that color picture of your little pretty
Free without the only cages that i found a way of breaking out

These sleepless days, better than my pain addiction
One loveless night, better than your faceless millions

These sleepless days, better than my pain addiction, better than your pain affiction
One loveless night, better than your faceless millions and our love addiction these sleepless days, better than your faceless millions
