Raise your glasses, half empty, the Needle skip spinning over and over

All the drunks and their floozies pour out of the bars
Run away with me now, our heads dizzy with stars

Run away with me now, this is love it would seem Just pray things for one moment might stop in between
All the people we've lost, all the things I forgot
Oh I do believe, that love is coming soon

Raise your glass for that bastard, the things that he did
Were unspeakable low, darlin' we were just kids
Run away with me now, we'll forget all about things
I'm here, I'll set you apart

Run away with me now, this is love it would seem
Just pray things for one moment might stop in between All the people we've lost, all the things that I've doubted
Have drifted, away, to the sea
