"Cross Yourself"

I can see, all the way to mercury, from mission bay and i can feel, your frequency just one more thing, cross yourself cross yourself and come to me and no matter how hard you try you can no longer be standing there with so many guides anticipating over the new clear water colour over the rocks and grasses everything was meant to be come to me and you say, all your life you've been waiting, for this time so open wide and spread your wings

just one more thing, cross yourself

don't i you listen to what they say there's no day like today ain't no secret cloud in the way it'll be so easy over the nuclear water colour over the broken glass'

ome to me

oh i can see, all the way to mercuÂry, from mission bay cross yourself and come to me
ross yourself
cross yourself and come to me
