Just give me something I can understand
Put the memory down in my hand
One more look before you go
From those sad eyes that follow me

I went to work, left you alone
The sun burns out as I come home
I don't feel a thing before the pain
I see those sad eyes, that follow me

She's stopping traffic at the side at the road
She said she's hitching a ride down to Mexico
I should have known, I didn't treat her right
She threw her best dress on and blew a kiss goodbye
With those sad eyes, yeah, those sad eyes

The house is empty and my sugar's gone
It's hard to dream now that I'm alone
My clothes are dirty and my bed is cold
I miss the sad eyes, yeah, those sad eyes
I miss the sad eyes that follow me

She's stopping traffic at the side of the road
She said she's hitching a ride down to Mexico
I should have known, I didn't treat her right
She threw her best dress on and blew a kiss goodbye
With those sad eyes that follow me
Those sad eyes that follow me

Just give me something I can understand
Put the memory down in my hand
One more look before you go

She's stopping traffic at the side of the road
She said she's hitching a ride down to Mexico
I should have known, I didn't treat her right
She threw her best dress on and blew a kiss goodbye
With those sad eyes that follow me
Those sad eyes that follow me, those sad eyes
