I went downtown after dark
To soak up all the bright light
To turn myself on
Just to try and feel alright

I didn't want to meet you there
I didn't think I had to
I just didn't want to see your face
And now I'm thinking 'bout you

Every night I lie awake
Everything's about you now

You could be the one who loves me
You could be the one who moves me
You could be the one who holds me tight

You could be the one who loves me
You could be the one who moves me
You could be the one who makes it right, hold me tight

I feel like dancing
Even though my feet are in the past
I feel like laughing
Even though my heart is overcast

Waiting on forever
Been standing 'round these streets
I've been waiting here, to get it right
Now I'm thinking 'bout you

Every corner that I turn
Everything's about you now

You could be the one who loves me
You could be the one who moves me
You could be the one who holds me tight

You could be the one who loves me
You could be the one who moves me
You could be the one who makes it right

You know it when it hits you, yeah
All this waiting is driving me crazy

I went downtown after dark
To soak up all the bright light
To turn myself on
Just to try and feel alright

You could be the one who loves me
You could be the one who moves me
You could be the one who holds me tight

You could be the one who loves me
You could be the one who moves me
You could be the one who makes it right, hold me tight
Yeah, yeah, hold me tight
