"Never Be Alone"

A whisper in heaven re-echoes around
The songs of the angels resound
Their music of light chases darkness away
Their voices uplifted to say

You will never be alone (you'll never be alone)
You will never be alone

Though their music is lost in the noise of the storm
And the whispers are drowned in the flood
Their message of hope is not fading away
The echoes will never decay

You will never be alone (you'll never be alone)
You will never be alone
