I never knew this would be hard
But now my heart is breaking down
I always thought I'd hear you call my name
Now I can't hear a sound

If there is a chance you know I will Relight the fire that we filled

(do you know)

Is there another way
There's still so much to say
And I don't even know where to begin

[Chorus:]

Don't tell me it's impossible
You said we were invincible
The situation's critical but I believe we can survive Cause my heart cries, my souls dies every time we say goodbye
Don't tell me it's impossible to save this heart of mine
I never thought we'd be strangers after all that we'd become
I never knew my world would come crashing down
The moment you were gone

Is time running out for the things to change
Cause I can see light through all the rain

Don't say its over now
We'll make it work somehow
Without you I don't know where to begin

[Chorus]

We got lost along the way
But when the night is over
We could live another day
Cause something's taking over

People change but love remains the same

[Chorus]
