Silver moon spotlight
For a crystal "rough divide"
And counterfeit desires
It's the emptiness of heart
There's a long way to disaster
And a goal you paid no mind
So try hard to be forgotten
Become ashes on the ground

Wrap me up among your delusion
Did I claim for this destiny
I still belong to the will of loneliness

Unravel from my hidden life
And all I do is to think about you all the time
To never be remembered by anyone

You stood outside the fairground
With that frowning fucking smile
As cute as I remember
Forgotten that I was
To be forgotten is worst than death
