She was a beauty nightmare
She flies beyond this darkness
The scapegoat of death faking to be alive
In her I'll take my last breath
As she wants to drag me on
But who else should deceit a stupid lie

And all she did was my desire
I was sitting close but not enough to her
And I don't like when she takes me higher
She glides like a swan in a lake of fire
Got myself uptight
For being the ugly duckling
Trying to despise her useless pride
She said she leave this land
Wicked, pure and lonely
Seems nothing had passed through her frozen heart

She was my desire
And I am the lake of fire
To never be forgiven
And my hate is her desire
