Wait with me, I can't see,
Sing to me a lullaby,

Drink from my cup of dreams,
A wide-eyed future is hiding in the trees,
And all I ever wanted is right here in front of me.

There's magic under these stars,
You and I will grow,
Seek out a balance,
There's no escaping this battle-ground,
Only love can calm my soul.

All we are, all we are,
Is all we need, is all we need,
I should go, I should go,
I thought of all the silly things I was running from,
So I'm coming home, I'm coming home!

So leave a window open please,
Tripping in on wings of a glorious breeze!
In time, you'll see,
That where the wind blows,
Takes us home, takes us home,
Home.
