Cold, dark, and dreary,
Tonight, I'm without ye.
My life's slipping beneath me,
I can't believe in the end you'd leave me.

I know, that love is just a myth,
I know, that I shouldn't believe in it.
Why can't, you see I'm alone,
Why didn't you just tell me how you felt.

What happened to cause this...

Death is knocking on my door!
Life makes me hit the floor!
Like gravity to a falling feather
There's no hope left in the air!

Road to recovery is quite long,
The scars you inflicted are strong.
Just let me be engulfed by darkness,
Maybe then I could find happiness.

It's over for me... leave me to die...

Death is knocking on my door!
Life makes me hit the floor!
Like gravity to a falling feather
There's no hope left in the air!

Air so thick and polluted,
Making me feel muted.
Everclear, life's long remedy,
I drink it, so I can forget me.

Visions blurry, death is in a hurry...

Death has broke down my door!
Now I can't get off the floor!
Gravity keeps me down on the ground!
Life's over death gave me a mound!

Say goodbye for me... and so... long...
