If you're looking to tell it
All and save your soul, I know what you can do You can start by letting me in
So we could begin to mend these salted wounds

You sacrifice, you sacrifice and if we bleed it's justified
And I can't look into your face, it's been harder than you've known
And I can't find a single place that these demons haven't shown
So go to sleep, I need to be alone

Don't ya, don't ya wanna tell someone
What you have done and get it off your chest?
How long can you carry this load
Until it explodes in your fucking face?

We sacrifice, we sacrifice and if we bleed it's justified
And I can't look into your face, it's been harder than
you've known
And I can't find a single place that these demons
haven't shown
So go to sleep, I need to be alone

We sacrifice, we sacrifice and if we bleed and justified
We sacrifice
(Lift yourself off that shelf)
We sacrifice
(Did your best and made this mess)
And justified
(Lift yourself off that shelf)
And justified
(Did your best and made this mess)

And I can't look into your face, it's been harder than
you've known
And I can't find a single place that these demons
haven't shown

And I can't look into your face, it's been harder than
you've known
And I can't find a single place that these demons

haven't shown
So go to sleep, I need to be alone
