"The Edge"

flowers are blowing in the wind and I can see the sun setting on the hill it's almost gone and the hills are greener than I've ever seen and this feels too real to be just another dream

now don't let me leave this moment hold me in this place where everything is clearer than of all before and everything makes sense

and you say
stand on the edge and don't be afraid to fall take a breath and tell me what you see
and you say
stand on the edge and don't be afraid to fall
take a breath and tell me what you see

as we sat down by the water in my mind I felt a gentle breeze blow soft against my face and we talked for hours it didn't seem to matter what about as long as I was there with you yeah you showed me what it is to believe in something greater than I can understand

it is to believe

stand on the edge and tomorrow don't close your eyes take a look around you

tell me what you see
