No words describe the scenery
Locked up in this cellblock
These concrete walls remind me of everything I've lost
I'm left to lift the weight of the world
You'll never understand how it feels to lose hope in every dream
And I'm losing myself, I'm losing myself
God has abandoned me like a fucking crux
And I'm losing myself so thanks for nothing
With no cross to bear
God has abandoned me
My biggest fear
Are you happy now?
You must be happy now.
