If you ever go out in west Texas, boy, I want you to stop by Abilene

If you ever go out in west Texas, boy, I want you to stop over in Abilene

Yes, you know it's some women there, man, they got a house all painted green

Well, I'm going out in west Texas, boys, just to run out on the range

on the range

Yes, and that's so I can rope a streak of lightning, boys, head a shower of rain

Yes, you know I got a little woman, she lives up on the hill

She drinks her corn whiskey, man, it runs fast from the still

You know I got a little bitty woman, whoa, Lord, she lives up on the hill

Yes, you know she drinks her corn whiskey, boy, run right from the still<sup>1</sup>

Note 1: still, distillery.
