Just give me more than I could ever wish for Give me more than I could ever hope to take
In one day, okay

There's always someone who can make me shiver
There's always someone who can melt the feel of ice
On my spine, in the night

Can't control, control the flame
But who the hell'd wanna calm this fever
Can't control, control desire
But who the hell'd wanna stop it now

I hear the thunder and my mind can't reason
Going under as it dances on my spine
Hold me tight, hold me tight

Must be someone who could kill this fever
But now and then I feel the fever rise and rise
Burning bright in the night

Can't control, control the flame
But who the hell'd wanna calm this fever
Can't control, control desire
But who the hell'd wanna stop it now

Night and day the heat is on, fever burns
Something strange is going on
And it makes me burn and burn

Can't control, control the flame
But who the hell'd wanna calm this fever
Can't control, control desire
But who the hell'd wanna stop it now

Can't control, control the flame
But who the hell'd wanna calm this fever
Can't control, control desire
But who the hell'd wanna stop it now

Can't control, control the flame
But who the hell'd wanna calm this fever

Can't control, control desire
But who the hell'd wanna stop it now
