You've been away so long, too long
What's wrong with us today?
We're running out of funny things to say
Home, I'm almost glad we made it
I never thought we'd see the day

What if now, after all
What if everything you've got made you want more
What if now, after all you're still not sure

Remember, when a thought
Could last forever and a day
Let's get back to waking up that way
Love, I'm almost glad we've made it
I never thought we'd see the day

What if now, after all
What if everything you've got made you want more
What if now, after all you're still not sure

But before you slip, take a friendly tip
From a friendly face on a sinking ship
Don't ever doubt it, scream and shout it out

After all
What if everything you've got made you want more
What if now, after all you're still not sure

What if now, after all
What if everything you've got made you want more
What if now, after all you're still not sure

What if now, after all
What if everything you've got made you want more
What if now, after all you're still not sure

What if now, after all
What if everything you've got made you want more
What if now, after all you're still not sure
