I could take steps on this moon and that cloud
Look at my breath and still feel the warm out
This isn't about seasons
Or about rhyme and reasons

Trying to be smart but my 0's and my 1's
Only show stars in my toes and my thumbs.
Nothing adds up but agrees
You becomes us and makes three

Cheers to such an old invention
Dear, we touched the fourth dimension

Bottle rockets and time bombs and warheads
We could go back, or keep on, or be led
Follow me to the chapel,
We're the kings of the castle
It's a science but there's room to believe,
In the riots I'll find you, and I'll breathe
This isn't for the weak hearts,
But everyone's here with some part

Here's to such an old invention;
Dear, we touched the fourth dimension
Cheers to such an old invention,
Here's an honorable mention.

I'm on moons and clouds
Where worlds wrap around.
I'm on moons and clouds
Where worlds wrap around.

Here's to such an old invention;
Dear, we touched the fourth dimension.
Cheers to such an old invention,
Here's an honorable mention.
We touched the fourth dimension.
We touched the fourth dimension.
We touched the fourth dimension.
I'm on moons and clouds
Where worlds wrap around.
