Well we set sail on a bad note cause we felt the feelings of i hope you choke and we know what its like to be left alone hard to find a future that is so unknown

Smile to forget this problem hold on to the ones your love stand up to the things we run from dont hold be and do it just because

Well we set sail today
with no direction
we'll find our way

This brings me back to where we first started we knew just how we were feeling as life goes on we become departed its just hard to say goodbye

And we'll be better off living for the moment

When your thinking about all that we have dont forget what you said
dont forget what you said
"you gotta live for tonight" dont let hope leave your side so even God will be impressed with this life

"you gotta live for tonight"
