Should the snowflakes fall, well I can't wait to see
If there's a snowman waiting for me,
They'll keep u company till I return
And time is dragging forward, now that I'm away,
And I miss the way I fell, I fell into your arms each day

Like an artist stands there painting, I can feel your heartbeat
Clicking the cadence to the sounds of you
Your patiently waiting for me
I can feel the reminence of our last kiss, it's still lingering on my lips
Now I'm gone but before to long
I'll be holding you safe in my arms

Stars are shining, are you watchin them too?
I swear there lighting the sky for you
They'll keep u company till I return
And time is slowly stopping now that I'm away
And I miss the way I fell, I fell into you arms each day

Like an artist stands there painting, I can feel your
heartbeat
Clicking the cadence to the sounds of you
Your patiently waiting for me
I can feel the reminence of our last kiss, it's still
lingering on my lips
Now I'm gone but before to long
I'll be holding you safe in my arms

Like an artist stands there painting, I can feel your
heartbeat
Clicking the cadence to the sounds of you
Your patiently waiting for me
I can feel the reminence of our last kiss, it's still
lingering on my lips
Hate when I'm gone but now that I'm home
I am holdign you safe in my arms
Holding you safe in my arms
