Johnny, uh, some kids on the show yesterday
mentioned a new kind of music Ska. You Know anything about it?
Nothing but a modern off-shoot of Reggae, updated by rock influences. Deafeningly Upbeat. Can never become really popular because even though they've made the back-beat
More conventional, it's still too exotic for mans acceptance.
Hello, hey now
The Fonz is cool, Fonzy don't cry
Hello, hey now
Well ask Mr. T, he's a really nice guy
There we go with a sign of a smile
Slap in the goonies, were lost for a while Whered you go my breakfast club girl?
Will you stand by me in a stand by World?
(Will you stand by me in a stand by World?
Will you stand by me? Oh yeah)
Hello, hey now
The Fonz is cool, Fonzy don't cry
Hello, hey now
Well ask Mr. T, he's a really nice guy
There we go with a sign of a smile
Slap in the Ferris, were cool for a while
They sit like a diamond inside of me
In one
A portable vacuum
In two
A mini-bar
In three
A holiday weekend
In four a Jaguar
In five
A soda stream machine
In six
A Betamax
In seven
A Remington shaver
Once you try it you'll never go back
Well look at me
Look at me

Look at me
Look at me
About to fall apart
Yes Im even empty-handed with my bulls-eye dart
Taking it back to summer of 85
Piggyback fights I was so
Alive
Will I find
Boba Fett?
And maybe my old Lego playset
Ip dip dog shit
Youre on my friend
Cos you trod in it
Turkey Lurkey one, two, three Tic off ground and it's home for tea
In one
A portable vacuum
In two
A mini-bar
In three
In five
In six
A Betamax
In seven
A Remington shaver
Once you try it you'll never go back
Well look at me
Look at me
Look at me
Look at me
About to fall apart
Yes Im even empty-handed with my bulls-eye dart
Well look at me
Look at me
Look at me
Look at me
About to fall apart
