Cant get up
No matter how long you're staring at me for
None for sorrow
And twos gonna get us chucked out that door
Well we stand where we stand
We fall where we fall
Its not very clever so sing one, sing all
And there's a place where well forget
The things weve done
The things weve said
I know there's been some hard times
But I need you my friend
And there's a place where well forget
The things weve done
The things weve said
Don't lean on me
We will find just how to be
Leave me behind
(I hope I don't go)
This is killing me
Every part of me
What you wanna rise up ride through
(And miss out on the best times, Cos Im sinking low Does it show?)
A problem shared is a problem gained Multiplied by
Too late to be forever
Too soon to be the end
For those who shout never
A message we send
And there's a place where well forget
The things weve done
The things weve said
I know there's been some hard times
But I need you my friend
And there's a place where well forget
The things weve done
The things weve said
Don't lean on me
We will find just how to be
Leave me behind
If somebody shit in Neils mouth do you think he'd eat

it?
Yeah, I think I'd eat it
Would you do it Neil?
"I don't know..."
Hold on, I think this is the thing, right. Neil - drink that piss, yeah. Were gonna give you... after
That were gonna give you half a pint of spit, go run - go for a naked run, and then after
That you can eat some of my shit; but it might not be vegan.
That sounds brilliant to me!
George Michael does that in the morning!
The things weve done
The things weve said
The things weve done
The things weve said
And there's a place where well forget
The things weve done
The things weve said
I know there's been some hard times
But I need you my friend
And there's a place where well forget
The things weve done
The things weve said
I know there's been some hard times
